GRAND ARMY MEN ON M'KINLEY'S IDEA

Widespread Interest in the President's Suggestion to Admit Veterans of the Spanish War.

Some of the Old Soldiers Doubt the Practicability of Carrying Out the Scheme.

President McKinley's suggestion, in his address to Massachusetts Grand Army of the Republic veterans, that men who served in the Spanish war should be admitted to their organization has aroused great interest among the veterans of the civil war. What leading men in the organization think of the President's idea is told in despatches to the N. Y. Herald given herewith.

THINKS SONS OF THE CIVIL WAR SHOULD BE ADMITTED.

HERALD BUREAU,
CORNER FIFTEENTH AND G. STREETS,
N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Calvin Farnsworth, Commander of the Department of the Potomac, of the Grand Army of the Republic, takes kindly to the suggestion of President McKinley to admit the soldiers of the Spanish-American war into the Grand Army.

"I believe, however," he said today, "that the sons of veterans of the war of 1861 should be admitted at the same time. To admit these would be a means of continuing the existence of the Grand Army. At the same time, I think it would be a splendid idea for the veterans of the last war to have an organization of their own."

Before the Spanish-American war soldiers can be admitted the subject will have to be brought up and passed at the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Philadelphia next September. I feel confident that the proposition will be discussed at this encampment, but do not think they will be admitted. Their admission would necessitate changes in the by-laws of the present Grand Army.

PENNSYLVANIA GRAND ARMY MEN OPPOSED TO THE SUGGESTION.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—A dozen Grand Army officials were discussing President McKinley's Boston speech at headquarters, in State House row, this afternoon, and all were unalterably opposed to admitting soldiers of the Spanish war to membership in the organization. Adjutant General Charles L. Leiper said:

"The objects of the Grand Army of the Republic are to keep alive memories of the war of 1861 to 1865 and to give succor to soldiers of that war who faltered by the wayside. Experiences, hardships and sufferings of that war came to those who are members of or are eligible to membership in the G. A. R., and will be of little interest to those gallant sons of America who served in the Spanish war."

COMMANDER GILMAN DOUBTS THE PRACTICABILITY OF THE IDEA.

BOSTON, Mass.—John E. Gilman, Commander of the Department of Massachusetts, G. A. R., said:

"The words of the President came from his broad and generous patriotism, which made him desire to group in one organization all the defenders of the flag. While I believe the G. A. R. to be in sympathy with the spirit of the President's suggestion, union being the very cause for which they fought, the nature of the two great organizations to which the civil war gave rise—the G. A. R. and the United Confederate Veterans—raises a doubt as to the practicability of the idea."

CHICAGO GRAND ARMY MEN SAY SPANISH WAR VETERANS ARE TOO YOUNG.

CHICAGO, Ill.—President McKinley's proposition that the Grand Army of the Republic admit soldiers of the Spanish war is not well received here by Grand Army men, who say Spanish war veterans are too young, and would not find the Grand Army companionable.

General Black, commanding the Department of Illinois, G. A. R., will not talk on the subject.

CONSTITUTION OF THE ORDER WOULD HAVE TO BE CHANGED.

NEW ORLEANS, La.—Grand Army men here say that while the President's suggestion that soldiers of the Spanish war be taken into the order is a very pretty one, it is wholly impracticable as matters now stand.

The constitution of the G. A. R. plainly provides that only veterans of the civil war are eligible to membership, and a constitutional amendment will have to be enacted before McKinley's idea can be made possible. Such a step can only be taken at a national encampment.
